The Process

The process begins with a photography session: carried out either by the artist herself or you, the client (or client's photographer). From these photographs the client is asked to select their 2 favourite images. They then choose two favourite colour background options from a selection of 6. Based on this selection of colour and pose, the artist will create two paintings in acrylic on paper measuring 22 x 30 inches. The painting on paper that you like the best will be the basis for the final work in oil on canvas.

The finished oil painting is offered in several size options. Your painting arrives ready to hang—stretched canvas over a custom made wooden frame. You may add a decorative frame if you like.

As a complimentary gift you will also be given the two works created on paper to frame as you wish.

Color Choice

The Artist will create two studies on paper in preparation for the final commissioned work on canvas. These frameable works on paper will be yours to keep.

She will create these works on two different color grounds of the Client's selection.

Please select 2 color swatches from below. Place a checkmark next to the names of the 2 swatches you are selecting.

The Fabula Option

The Artist can create a painting that also includes a subtle line drawing offset in the painting's background, suggesting your child's unique interests. Think unicorns, guitar playing, elephants, soccer... This is called a Fabula painting. There will be an upcharge of 10% for choosing the fabula option. Please see the following page for details.

If you would like a fabula painting, please choose one of the subjects below. Kindly give an example for the one you choose and be as specific as you can, eg. not just a bird but a robin.
